

EXERCISE:

You try! Make a web page with 4 elements.

Heads up: This will look bad.

1. One should have a header tag with a background color of your choice, 100% width, and fixed positioned to the top, right of the viewport.
2. Give the body a viewport height of 200vh.
3. Make a div (give it a width and a height) under the header and give it a border of 1px solid black.
4. Put a paragraph tag with your name inside the div and absolutely position it to the bottom, right of the div.
5. Add an image of your choice without any positioning (this is your static positioned item).
